PROFESSIONAL MASONRY - Done to meet and exceed state building codes.

We only use fresh, high quality QUIKRETE™ concrete and mortar mixes to assure a perfect mix every time. The concrete we use contains poly-fiber to help prevent cracking

TUCKPOINTING:

We remove all deteriorated or otherwise unsound mortar joints by using suitable hand and/or power tools for cutting joints to a minimum depth of ¾ inches. Loose debris in the joints will be removed by brushing, blowing high velocity air into the joints, and/or flooding all joints with water. During removal, a significant amount of dust is created, so we protect affected areas including, but not limited to, air conditioners, shrubbery, open windows, shingles and vehicles.

Once the mortar joints have been properly prepared, color matching, high strength, contractor grade, type S mortar will be neatly inserted into the joints. When the new mortar is properly finished and cured, it is cleaned to remove any stain and dirt.

WATERPROOFING

According to the Brick Industry Association, chimneys require special attention and maintenance to prevent costly damage caused by water penetration. Because chimneys project above the roof line, they are vulnerable to the elements. Nearly every chimney encountered has signs of water damage! The first step is to determine the cause and then find the best corrective measures. ChimneySaver™, the first product developed specifically for chimneys, has been used successfully by leading chimney professionals for nearly 20 years. It reduces water penetration into the masonry by 99.9%, according to ASTM tests conducted at the University of Wyoming.

It's also 100% vapor permeable, which means it won't trap water vapors that may pass through the bricks when the chimney is in use, unlike other products found in most hardware or home improvement stores. Those products when applied to a masonry chimney can actually slow down water vapors as they pass through the chimney leading to water damage. 10 year warranty.
